Information Graphic Designer

...seeking collaboration with passionate designers, artists, and content developers!

Background

I've been pushing pixels since 1980; I've created museum and trade show kiosks, worked in the professional video game industry, and am broadly competent with many digital media technologies. Just ask, and I will gladly share what I know.

I am happiest when I empower others with new tools and skills; understanding, insight, and clarity are the metrics by which I measure my success. This is born, I believe, from meaningful dialogue within the team, with the client, and with our audience.

Maybe you're a designer looking for a programmer that speaks your creative language. Or you're a programmer trying to figure out what looks good and how to translate that to code. Give me a call, and let's have a conversation.
