NOTES

This is designed for people who are walking around the city! Austin is arranged like a grid near the convention center.

It seems that the numbered streets are all East-West and the named streets are North-South

The numbered streets divide into WEST and EAST where Congress St crosses it.

It takes just a few minutes to walk from one grid block to another, so you can estimate your time to walk. If you're driving, beware one-way streets.

You can infer the location of other street addresses from the numbers that are listed. N-S streets start at 1st St, and increment by ~100 per block.

To get to S 1st St, take Guadalupe south over the river.
